Abstract

A lot of human rights in Indonesia on era were abused the New Order. Those abuse caused Indonesia got a bad impression related to protection of human rights. The bad impression was got by Indonesia not only from inside the country but also from the international world. With the change of the government from the new order era to the reformation era, there are efforts that is done by Indonesian government in order to improve Indonesian impression on Human rights inside the country and also on international world.

Keyword: Human Rights, Indonesia, Reformation